

ENGLAND LOSES ANOTHER SHIP

Cruiser Hawke, Used for Scouting Purpose, Sunk
by Germans.

500 MEN ARE DROWNED

Disaster Takes Place in North Sea—
Struck Amidship by Torpedo Fired by Submarine.

London, Oct. 16.—England has lost another cruiser through the activity of the German submarine fleet. The cruiser Hawke, utilized for scouting purposes off the German naval base in the North Sea, has been torpedoed and sunk with a loss of about 500 officers and men.

The disaster took place yesterday afternoon at a point in the North Sea whose location is withheld by the admiralty. The Hawke was steaming along when she was struck almost amidship by a torpedo sent by a submarine, and almost tore to pieces.

According to an official announcement issued by the admiralty at 12:08 this afternoon, three of the Hawke's officers and forty-nine men have been saved.

The first report of the disaster was received in a dispatch to the Press Association, which simply announced that the cruiser had been lost. The admiralty stated that it had no information confirming the report. Two hours later, however, the brief announcement was made public by the admiralty, which also stated that the Hawke had fallen victim of a German submarine.

While a comparatively old vessel, the Hawke was especially suited for the work assigned to her—patrol duty. She is the warship which just missed sending the giant White Star liner Olympic to the bottom of the English channel when she rammed the passenger liner during a fog in 1911.

At that time the Olympic was leaving port en route to America with every cabin filled with passengers and she was in grave danger of sinking for some hours. The Hawke was engaged in maneuvers in the channel at the time.

According to information at present obtainable, none of the high commissioned officers of the Hawke were saved.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA.

Mikado Seeking to Convert Entente
With Czar's Into Formal Alliance.

London, Oct. 16.—"Gen. Oba, the Japanese military attaché with the commander-in-chief," says the Times Petrograd correspondent, "after an imperial audience at Tsarokoselo, gave a statement to the Bourge Gazette, frankly expressing his earnest wishes to convert the Russo-Japanese entente into a formal alliance. Such an alliance, Gen. Oba, said, would be warmly welcomed by the Japanese government and people."

"Gen. Oba, said he believed the moment had arrived to conclude such an alliance, and that M. Sazonoff, the Russian foreign minister; M. Iswelsky, Russian Ambassador to France, and Baron Monono, Japanese Ambassador to Russia, were doing their utmost to strengthen the bonds of friendship between Japan and Russia."

NEWS OF THE DAY

The cross-channel steamers, which have been busy for days past transporting refugees from Ostend, which port is now closed owing to the approach of the Germans, are being employed now in bringing refugees from Dunkirk and Calais. These refugees are Belgians who succeeded in getting to France from their own country, and owing to the panicky feeling in the French port, are now just as anxious to come to England.

The foreign trade of the United States shows slow but steady improvement in the opinion of the President, who told callers yesterday he had learned through letters and personal talks that the demand for American goods abroad has shown a marked increase recently. The call for American made cotton fabrics is particularly noticeable in Spain, the Scandinavian countries, and in South America, he said. Buying of raw cotton has not been resumed on a large scale, he added, largely because of the difficulty in getting quotations. The President indicated his belief that the cotton situation would be improved before the picking of this year's crop.

Dropping 100 feet from a precipice, a twenty-ton boulder yesterday crashed down upon a Denver and Rio Grande train, crushed a steel coach like an eggshell, killed three passengers and seriously injured fourteen others.

Since the collapse of the chain of private banks conducted by Adolph Marsdel, of New York, six of the depositors have committed suicide and a seventh, a woman with a baby, has slept for the past six nights in the city's parks, so Mayor Mitchell was informed by the spokesman of the men, women and children depositors, who swept down upon the city hall. The mayor heard the disturbance they made outside his office and sent word for them to send in one of their number. They chose Louis M. Schuttler, who asked the mayor's aid toward an early settlement of Marsdel's affairs.

Virtually all the members of the British royal family departed from London yesterday for Sandringham for a stay, the duration of which is not announced. Queen Mother Alexandra and Princess Victoria left the capital during the forenoon on a special train, shortly to be followed by another special train bearing King George and Queen Mary and Princess Mary and the Prince, Albert and John. A great crowd assembled at the station to give their majesties an enthusiastic reception, while the soldiers guarding the depot gave the royal salute.

Howard E. Davis, secretary of the Progressive county central committee, and editor of the Evening Index, shot and killed Ben Emerson, a sportsman, Wednesday night at San Bernardino, Cal. Davis said Emerson attacked him. The shooting followed a fist fight in the street at the entrance to Progressive headquarters. Davis went to his office after the shooting, and was arrested there. He exhibited marks on his face and said that he shot in self-defense. Emerson's name had been used in the paper in connection with attacks on Republican party leaders, and he had demanded a retraction, it is said.

WAR POLITICS IN SPAIN.

Anti-Government Tactics in Cry to Join With Allies.

Washington, D. C. Oct. 16.—Appeals to Spain to take up arms with Portugal on the side of England were described by officials at the Spanish Embassy yesterday as anti-government propaganda, set on foot by the Radical party. This party, it was stated, opposed the campaign in Morocco on humanitarian grounds, but now, joining with army officials, is urging that Spain espouse the cause of the Allies.

There is, on the other hand, Embassy officials asserted, a strong pro-German feeling among many Spanish civilians, with whom the historical sympathy of the two nations plays an important part.

Statements that participation in the war by Portugal would mean an invasion of Spain by the officials. Spain they added, had given no intimation of any kind that she would alter her neutral attitude.

GERMAN PLAN FOR BELGIAN COAST

Will Mount New and Great
Guns as Menace to British Vessels.

PREMATURE BOASTS.

Ordnance Alleged to be as Easily
Sighted as Rifles—Said to be of Marvelous Utility.

London, Oct. 16.—Germany plans to mount her newest and great guns along the Belgian seacoast. With them she hopes to force the British fleet to stay far off shore.

These guns are already mounted on trains that wait inside the Belgian border. They are ready on signal to be rushed to Ostend and other sea coast cities where, if past performances are any guide, the concrete bases on which they are to be set are already constructed.

Refugees who have arrived here from Belgium say the British and Belgian officers who are familiar with the situation insist that this is the German plan. They say boasts here that the British fleet will make short work of the Germans if they try to occupy the coast cities are premature.

These new German guns, the latest product of the house of Krupp, are reported to be an improvement on their big siege guns with which they reduced Liege, Namur, and Antwerp. They have the added advantage, the rumors reaching here say, of being as easily sighted as a rifle.

It is declared the tests of these guns are the real reasons why the Germans changed their plan of campaign and started out to try to take all of Belgium. They far exceeded the expectation of the German artillery experts. While because of their enormous caliber (exact details are unknown) their life is short, they are said to be marvels of execution. Already the British warships are assembled at a rendezvous where they can strike at a couple of hours' notice.

REH AND IRWIN ON TRIAL.

Men Who Fired Pistols in Streets
April 23rd Before Corporation Court.

The trials of Fred Reh and Leslie Irwin, charged with shooting Maggie Jefferson, a colored woman, on the night of April 23rd, were commenced in the Corporation Court this morning. Shortly after court convened a recess was taken until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Reh and Irwin were with a party of men occupying an automobile, and are charged with firing their revolvers at passersby as the automobile was driven at a high rate of speed through the streets.

Harry Hampler, one of the men in the party, was tried in the Corporation Court several months ago and sentenced to 30 days in jail with a fine of $300.

The trial of Reh was taken up first before the following jury: Arthur D. Grimes, C. E. Remington, George D. Wills, Hugo Herfurth, Jr., W. K. Griffith, George H. Robinson, Claude R. Yates, W. E. Hinken, M. J. McFarland, B. Abramson, C. Page Waller and S. L. Monroe. Reh is represented by Attorneys R. C. L. Moncre and Louis N. Duffey, and the State by Commonwealth Attorney Samuel G. Brent.

CHOLERA SPREADING.

Venice, Italy, via Paris, Oct. 16.—According to reports reaching here, cholera is making rapid strides throughout Hungary, and the progress of the disease is causing alarm among the people. The Hungarian authorities, it now appears, were too lax in the beginning in the matter of the sanitary supervision of prisoners' camps, which have since been placed under special control. Prisoners are no longer permitted to camp in the open air, and all suspected cases are being isolated in hospitals.

MOOSE CARNIVAL AND BAZAAR

Daughters of America Night—Many in Alexandria Notwithstanding Rain.

Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather of last night, the attendance again manifested the popularity of Loyal Order of Moose carnival and bazaar. Great merriment prevailed among the throng and a real carnival scene presented itself.

E. Forrest Birrell, soloist, rendered songs, and was recalled several times, which is evidence of his old time favor with the local public.

Mr. Raymond Reeves, accompanist, was particularly pleasing also in piano selections.

The members of Leonada quartette, of Washington, were unable to come, but they are expected early next week. A number of articles were voiced.

Visiting brothers of the order were registered at the bazaar last night from Rochester, Richmond, Baltimore and Washington, and Washington, N. C., which shows the interest taken by sister lodges, all lodges in the Eastern jurisdiction having been invited.

Tonight's program includes exhibition dancing, recitations by Master Robert Yates. The Daughters of America will attend in a body.

Tomorrow night is Union night, and a large attendance is expected. Special attractions are Mr. Chas. Henry Sampson, soloist; Maryland Mandolin Club and Alexandria Band. All should avail themselves of the opportunity of having their fortune told by Madame Zingara, the noted Hungarian gypsy.

Next week—Monday night B. P. O. E., Maryland Lodge, L. O. O. M. of Highlandtown, and the Holy Name Band.

Tuesday, Jr. O. U. A. M., and Indian Guard Band.

Wednesday—Eagles, Red Men and Knights of Columbus, Holy Name Band.

Thursday night—Odd Fellows' night in uniform rank.

FAIRFAX COUNTY FAIR.

Vice-President Marshall and Congressman Carlin Attend.

Vice President Marshall and Representative C. C. Carlin yesterday (fraternized with the 3,000 visitors in attendance upon the Fairfax county agricultural fair. In brief address the visitors pronounced the display the greatest agricultural fair in northern Virginia.

In his talk to Virginians, the Vice President complimented them on their excellent showing of fruits particularly of apples. He pointed out that the county as an American institution did more than educate the community. It stimulated production, both in quality and quantity. His address was followed by remarks by Mr. Carlin.

One of the features of the day was the attendance of nearly 2,000 school children from neighboring communities.

The success of the fair led the directors to continue it through tomorrow.

WILL CONTINUE FAIR.

On account of inclement weather, the Fairfax County Fair will be continued through tomorrow (Saturday). The management has retained the free attractions for the day, consisting of the exhibit by the diving pony and balloon ascension. All exhibits will remain over Saturday.

ALLIES CHECK KAISER'S ARMY

Paris Has No Information Concerning Conditions at Ostend.

SNOW IN THE VOSGES.

French Continue Their Advance and Obtain Footholds at Important
Passes in the Mountains.

Paris, Oct. 16.—The war office is silent today regarding the developments in Belgium, adding nothing to its statement of yesterday that the advance of the Germans toward the coast has been checked. There is a general feeling that important news is being withheld, but officials insist that they had no information whatever regarding conditions at Ostend.

Much attention, however, is being paid to the French right wing, which extends into the Vosges and Lorraine. It is reported that important developments may be expected there in the immediate future.

Despite the fact that there is already snow on the ground in the Vosges, the French are continuing their advance and already they have obtained footholds in all the important passes from which they were compelled to retire earlier in the campaign.

It is believed in Paris that the activity of the right wing has forced the Germans once more to weaken their center to prevent an important movement toward Metz.

CONSECRATION SERVICE.

Rev. W. C. Brown, D.D., Elected Bishop-
Coadjutor of Virginia, Guest of Bishop Gibson.

Richmond, Oct. 16.—Arrangements for the consecration of Rev. W. C. Brown, D.D., recently elected bishop-coadjutor for the Episcopal Diocese of Virginia, will be made this week. Dr. Brown has arrived from Brazil, where he has been engaged in missionary work, and is now the guest of Bishop Gibson at his home, 906 Park avenue.

While the date for the consecration has not been set, it will probably be held on October 28, either at Holy Trinity, St. James or St. Paul's Church. The details were left for settlement until the wishes of Dr. Brown could be consulted.

The consecration service will be an impressive one. Bishop A. M. Randolph and Bishop-Coadjutor Beverly R. Tucker of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, will assist Bishop Gibson, while efforts are being made to bring Bishop Tuttle, of Missouri, the oldest Episcopal bishop here to proceed.

FOUL IN THE TRENCHES.

Threatened Epidemic Among the German Troops.

Paris Oct. 16.—Colonel Rousset, the famous military expert, writing in La Liberté, says:
"The character of the fighting in France is about to undergo a change. The trenches are full of polluted water, beneath which lie heaps of rotting corpses. The Germans are being forced to quit them and the great battle, therefore, is about to assume a more open character."

Amsterdam, October 16 (via London)—The Het Leven publishes an interview its correspondent at Metz had with Professor Bosserer, who, he says has been charged with the task of combating a threatened epidemic among the German troops.

The correspondent declares Professor Bosserer gave him an unfavorable account of the health of the German soldiers, asserting that there was a large number of cases of dysentery, inflammation of the lungs and several cases of typhus among them. He added, however, according to the correspondent, that nothing else could be expected when troops had to stand five days in trenches half full of water.

DROWNS ON FLORIDA TRIP.

Aged Virginian Disappears From Home and is Reported Dead.

Staunton, Va., Oct. 16.—David Hupman, a Confederate veteran, 80 years old, left home Sunday, and his wife supposing he had gone to visit relatives in the county, attached no importance to his absence. She received a telegram Wednesday from an undertaking establishment in Jacksonville, Fla., saying that Mr. Hupman had been drowned there, and asking what disposition to make of the body. He was never in Florida, had no friends or relatives there and his reason for making the trip is unknown. It is thought by his wife and friends that his mind must have become affected and that he took the train without knowing where he was going and landed in Jacksonville.

Skull Fractured in Fight.

Petersburg, Va., Oct. 16.—A fight occurred Wednesday night on the farm of Hatcher Seward, in Prince George County, between Frank Vander and Frank Talley, two white men. Vander, who is a Bohemian, says he struck Talley for insulting his wife. Vander has not yet been arrested.

STEADILY PROGRESS.

Stretch Now From Ypres to North
Sea—Entire Situation Described as Most Satisfactory.

Paris, Oct. 16 2:45 p. m.—The French war office made an official announcement this afternoon as follows:

"The progress indicated yesterday afternoon has been confirmed. On our left wing the field of action of the allied forces extends at the present time from the region of Ypres to the sea."

"In Russia, on the left bank of the Vistula river, the Russian troops, during the day of October 13 repulsed the German attacks on Warsaw and Ivangorod."

"A battle is going on south of Przemysl."

Paris, Oct. 16.—The allied lines have been extended so that they now hold a line from Ypres to the sea. They will now be able to prevent any sudden flanking movement by the new German forces which have been sent into Belgium.

This was the most noteworthy announcement contained in the official communication issued at Bordeaux at 2:40 this afternoon and telegraphed to Paris to be made public by General Gallieni.

The report declared that the progress already reported as being made by the allies at every point of the long battle line was being continued without interruption today. The line has been extended from Ypres to the sea, it was stated, and in general the entire situation was described as "excellent."

GETS LIFE SENTENCE.

Jury Finds E. J. Holloway Guilty of Murdering W. Faires.

Hampton, W. Va., Oct. 16.—Edward F. Holloway, a young man of Poquon, York county, yesterday was sentenced to a life term in the penitentiary by a jury in the Circuit Court which tried him for assassinating George W. Faires, a Newport News electrician in the home of Mrs. David B. Harwood, near Hampton, on August 15. The jury was out only forty minutes.

His attorney, F. S. Collier, made a plea of insanity, and it was this plea, it is said, that caused the jury to let him escape the electric chair.

Young Faires, who came here from North Carolina, had been calling upon Miss Mamie Harwood, the divorced wife of Holloway, on the night of the assassination. He was shot down, as he attempted to leave the house by the front door, by Holloway, who, the State charged, was in hiding in a cornfield nearby.

Holloway is thirty-four years old, and is a member of a prominent York county family.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL ANNIVERSARY OF RAID ANOTHER LARGE CROWD

October 16, 1859, was a day long to be remembered in Alexandria and throughout Virginia. John Brown with a corporal's guard of fanatics made a descent upon Harper's Ferry in an attempt to liberate the slaves in the commonwealth. His career was short-lived, as he and his fellow-conspirators were soon captured, tried and hanged.

The following account of the affair is from a history of Alexandria, written by the late George W. Rock and F. L. Brockett in 1888: On Monday, October 16, 1859, the country was startled by telegraphic announcements, that an insurrection had occurred at Harper's Ferry, in Jefferson county, Virginia, and that certain persons had taken possession of the United States Arsenal, located there; that they had committed many outrages by seizing citizens, firing into passing trains, killing several persons, and seizing vehicles, which they loaded with arms, taken from the Government arsenal, which they removed, cutting also the telegraph wires to prevent early information of their operations being known. Notwithstanding this precaution on the part of these assassins, the news was speedily communicated to the country. His Excellency, Henry A. Wise, Governor of Virginia, took immediate steps to suppress the insurrection, and for this purpose summoned the troops of the Commonwealth, residing adjacent to Harper's Ferry, and those within easy communication by rail, to repair at once to Harper's Ferry. It is needless to say that the call of Governor Wise was promptly responded to, and among the earliest to arrive was the Alexandria Riflemen, Capt. Morton Mayre, which escorted the Governor to the scene of operations. The insurrection was a brief, but sharp affair. On the evening of the 17th of October, General Robert Edward Lee, then Colonel in the U. S. army, arrived with a company of marines, and on the following morning, Colonel Shutt, bearing a flag of truce, demanded the surrender of the insurgents, which, being refused, the marines by order of Colonel Lee advanced, charged and endeavored to break down the door of the Armory, which building the conspirators occupied, and where they held as prisoners, several citizens and government employees. A large ladder, used as a battering ram, forced the door, under a brisk fire from the insurgents. In the melee three marines and several citizens, held by them, were killed; and among the latter a son of Brown, the ringleader. Brown himself being badly wounded. The Virginia troops, adjacent to Harper's Ferry, were on the ground, when Colonel Lee's command arrived, and shortly after the capture of Brown, Cook, Coppie, Green and Copeland, the latter two negroes, and the other insurgents, Governor Wise arrived with the Alexandria Riflemen and other Virginia troops. Shortly thereafter, there also arrived the 17th regiment Virginia Militia, commanded by Colonel Chas. E. Stuart, of Alexandria, the 17th regiment, commanded by Lieut. Colonel E. L. Brockett of Petersburg, the first regiment; Colonel Thomas P. August, of Richmond, the Alexandria Artillery, Capt. Duffey and the Mount Vernon Guards, Capt. S. H. DeVaughan, of Alexandria. By appointment of Colonel Stuart, orderly Sergeant William W. Rock was put in charge of regimental Headquarters. After the capture of Brown and his party, the people would have made short work of them, but for the presence of Colonel Lee and Governor Wise, who had just arrived, and who said the conspirators should be tried according to the law of land, and that no harm should befall them meanwhile. Brown and his confederates were removed to Charlestown, Jefferson county, for trial for "insurrection and murder."

Mr. C. C. Pelton, formerly of Alexandria, but now a resident of Philadelphia, is spending a week in the city.

Chief C. T. Goods, of the Alexandria police department, has returned from the John Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, where he had an operation performed on his throat.

Wise, Governor of Virginia, took immediate steps to suppress the insurrection, and for this purpose summoned the troops of the Commonwealth, residing adjacent to Harper's Ferry, and those within easy communication by rail, to repair at once to Harper's Ferry. It is needless to say that the call of Governor Wise was promptly responded to, and among the earliest to arrive was the Alexandria Riflemen, Capt. Morton Mayre, which escorted the Governor to the scene of operations. The insurrection was a brief, but sharp affair. On the evening of the 17th of October, General Robert Edward Lee, then Colonel in the U. S. army, arrived with a company of marines, and on the following morning, Colonel Shutt, bearing a flag of truce, demanded the surrender of the insurgents, which, being refused, the marines by order of Colonel Lee advanced, charged and endeavored to break down the door of the Armory, which building the conspirators occupied, and where they held as prisoners, several citizens and government employees. A large ladder, used as a battering ram, forced the door, under a brisk fire from the insurgents. In the melee three marines and several citizens, held by them, were killed; and among the latter a son of Brown, the ringleader. Brown himself being badly wounded. The Virginia troops, adjacent to Harper's Ferry, were on the ground, when Colonel Lee's command arrived, and shortly after the capture of Brown, Cook, Coppie, Green and Copeland, the latter two negroes, and the other insurgents, Governor Wise arrived with the Alexandria Riflemen and other Virginia troops. Shortly thereafter, there also arrived the 17th regiment Virginia Militia, commanded by Colonel Chas. E. Stuart, of Alexandria, the 17th regiment, commanded by Lieut. Colonel E. L. Brockett of Petersburg, the first regiment; Colonel Thomas P. August, of Richmond, the Alexandria Artillery, Capt. Duffey and the Mount Vernon Guards, Capt. S. H. DeVaughan, of Alexandria. By appointment of Colonel Stuart, orderly Sergeant William W. Rock was put in charge of regimental Headquarters. After the capture of Brown and his party, the people would have made short work of them, but for the presence of Colonel Lee and Governor Wise, who had just arrived, and who said the conspirators should be tried according to the law of land, and that no harm should befall them meanwhile. Brown and his confederates were removed to Charlestown, Jefferson county, for trial for "insurrection and murder."

Evangelist Starke Delivers Address on Profit and Loss in Trinity M. E. Church Last Night.

Another large audience assembled at Trinity M. E. Church last night to hear Mr. Starke on "Profit and Loss, or Would you Trade?" The address was practical and interesting throughout.

The proportions of the crowd was a surprise to every one, as it was expected that the rain would keep many at home. The meetings are union in their nature, representatives of nearly all churches of the city attending the same.

Mr. Starke will take for his subject tonight, "Keep Sweet."

The evangelist will preach three times on Sunday twice in Trinity Church, and once in the Surprise Theatre. Great crowds are expected at all of these services, full announcements of which will appear in tomorrow's Gazette. There will also be a service on Saturday night at the usual hour.

MULATTO FLIMFLAMIST

Imposter Visits Three Alexandria Stores and Secures Articles Under False Pretense.

Two Alexandria merchants, Robert E. Knight and Richard Gibson, were victims last night by a clever flimflam artist, and a third, Preston O. Cockey, escaped. The man who was a mulatto, about 22 years of age, first appeared at Mr. Knight's store where he said he had been sent by Edward L. Daingerfield, president of the Citizens' National Bank, to secure a $25 camera which Mr. Daingerfield's daughter wished to present to a friend. Mr. Knight did not have the kind of camera desired in the store but said that he would telephone Mr. Daingerfield and see if another kind of camera would suit. He was unable to secure a telephone connection and gave the man the camera he had to be returned if not satisfactory.

The negro then went to Cockey's candy store where he picked out $6.50 worth of candy which he said were for Miss Daingerfield. Mr. Cockey telephoned and found out that the man was an imposter. While he was telephoning the latter left the store.

From Gibson's drug store he secured a number of toilet articles which he had charged to the account of M. L. Dinwiddie, of the Citizens' National Bank.

FIRE AT OLD LOCAL DEPOT.

Abandoned Frame Structure Was Ablaze Again Today.

The old frame building on the northeast corner of Cameron and Fayette streets, used from 1877 until 1904 by the Washington Southern Railway Company as a local depot, was found to be burning about half-past eleven o'clock this morning. The flames were extinguished by the department before they had gained dangerous headway.

This is the second time during the past few weeks that the old structure has been set on fire.

BENEFIT AT POLIS THEATRE.

O'Kane Council Catholic Benevolent Legion, of this city, has secured Monday, October 19th, for a benefit performance, the play being "The Master Mind."

This organization has been in existence for a number of years, being a fraternal insurance, and the amount of claims paid, compares favorably with other similar organizations.

The tickets are good at matinee or night performance and can be had from the members.

of slavery in Maryland and Virginia—an institution recognized by the laws of the land. Most of Brown's associates in this enterprise had been with him in Kansas, where they had for some years defied the laws.

Shortly after these executions, the Alexandria troops were put in motion "home" and "back" to the States.

During their absence a "Home Guard" was organized for the protection of the town, and Col. William S. Kemper elected Captain. Captain M. D. Corse 1st Lieutenant, Col. Chas. F. Suttle 2nd Lieutenant, Col. Robert S. Ashby 3d Lieutenant and Captain Thornton Triplett 4th Lieutenant. This Home Guard assisted the regular police force in patrolling the town and looking after suspicious characters.

DUAL TRIBUNALS.

Rival Courts to Sit on Same Day—
L. Newport News.

Newport News, Va., Oct. 15.—A comedy, drama and vaudeville travesty on the dignity of the court is expected on January 1, 1915, when both Police Justice Brown and Police Justice Christian administer justice in the police courtroom. There is but one desk in the room and but one pedestal on which a desk and chair may be placed. In fact, the courtroom was built to be occupied by one police justice at a time.

Police Justice Brown says he believes the Price bill valid and will continue to act as police justice until January 1, 1915, to which time the Price bill has extended his present tenure of office. He also stated that he will be a candidate for re-election in November, 1915, at which time the police justice shall be elected by the people.

Attorney T. J. Christian, police justice No. 2 by the action of the city council states that he also will hold court in the police courtroom on and after January 1, 1915, at which time the city officers begin their term of office. Police Justice No. 2, states that he, and not police justice No. 1, J. D. G. Brown, is the legal officer and is determined not to be displaced.

Both justice No. 1 and justice No. 2 say that they are going to hold court in the same room at the same time.

It is suggested that if two police justices hold office, two salaries will have to be paid.

It is not known at this time which side will take the matter to court. T. J. Christian, police justice No. 2 is confident that he is the real power and that if the supporters of J. D. G. Brown police justice, No. 1, do not like it, they can take the matter to the courts. J. D. G. Brown, police justice No. 1, thinks that he is the real power and says that the council can take the matter to the courts.

RICHMOND FLOUR.

Twenty-Thousand Barrels Leave Newport News for France.

Newport News, Oct. 15.—Twenty-two thousand barrels of Richmond-made flour left Newport News yesterday in the steamship Venetia bound for Bordeaux, France, for use of the French army. The flour was made by the Dunlop Mills. It will make 7,900,000 loaves of bread. This would give fifty-three loaves to every man, woman and child in Richmond. All the flour was shipped in cotton bags, in the making of which many bales of cotton were used. The Dunlop Mills had previously shipped to Europe large flour consignments.

Youth Dead From Poison

Orange, Va., Oct. 15.—Raleigh Hamilton, 17 years old, was found dead in his bed yesterday morning. Near him were two empty bottles which had contained strychnine and laudanum and a note to his parents, saying he was losing his mind and preferred to die. He was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Hamilton.

He thought 60 grains of strychnine from a local druggist yesterday, saying his father, who is a farmer, wanted it to kill rats.

British Ambassador Warns Women to Leave Constantinople.

London, Oct. 15.—A dispatch from Amsterdam says the Frankfurter Zeitung has received a communication from Constantinople asserting that the British Ambassador to Turkey, Sir Louis Mallet, asked the women of the embassy last Monday to leave the city. Questioned by one of his hearers whether this was absolutely necessary the Ambassador replied:

"You must accept the hint without asking the reasons."

MALARIA AND MOSQUITOES.

State Board of Health Starts Campaign Against Insect.

Richmond, Oct. 15.—To locate malaria-carrying mosquitoes and to show how the destruction of this pest prevents the spread of malaria, the State Board of Health and officers of the United States Public Health Service have undertaken a campaign against "chills and fever" in infected counties of Virginia. Details of the campaign, of which no previous announcement has been made, are given in a special bulletin of the State Board of Health.

Drs. R. H. von Emdorf and R. C. Derivaux, of the United States Public Health Service, have been detailed for temporary work with the Virginia officers. Both are well-known authorities on malaria prevention and have done much practical work in the South.

The board's plan is to take a few typical communities in which malaria has been spreading and to demonstrate in these, by practical field work, what steps are necessary to keep the disease from spreading. The health officers begin their campaign in a given locality by making a thorough survey to demonstrate the presence and breeding places of the anopheles mosquito which carries the parasite of malaria. Efforts are then made to enlist the support of local authorities in definite clean-up campaigns, filling, draining and oiling, by which mosquitoes can be destroyed. Reports thus far received indicate a lively public interest in the counties where the work is being done.

FRANK'S FIGHT FOR LIFE.

Condemned Still Has a Chance to Escape Death.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 15.—Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of 15-year-old Mary Phagan, and whose extraordinary motion for a new trial was denied by the State Supreme Court Wednesday, has still another chance for his life, and probably two more chances. On October 25, or soon thereafter, the State Supreme Court will listen to arguments on a motion to set aside the verdict of the jury which convicted Frank on the ground that he was not in the courtroom when the verdict was returned. Should this motion be denied, Frank's attorneys plan to make an attempt to take the case to the United States Supreme Court. They say a constitutional point is involved.

The State Supreme Court was unanimous in denying the extraordinary motion for a new trial.

The extraordinary motion, for a new trial alleged numerous grounds, principal of which was the contention that Dr. H. F. Harris, State medical expert, had declared that hair found on the turning lathe in the pencil factory differed from the hair taken from the head of Mary Phagan after her death. Other new evidence included an affidavit by the Rev. J. B. Ragsdale, who alleged that he overheard a negro confess to the murder of Mary Phagan, which was later repudiated by Mr. Ragsdale; the alleged confession obtained from James Conley in the Fulton county jail by a negro named Annie Maud Carter, and numerous affidavits in which State's witnesses were purported to repudiate evidence given by them at Frank's original trial, most of which affidavits were later recanted by their makers.

This was Frank's fifth attempt to obtain a retrial or an annulment of the verdict, which was returned on August 25, 1913.

The London Daily News says that on Friday last German soldiers entered Holland near Roosendaal. The officer in command refused to submit to internment, and a fight ensued, a dozen Germans being killed or wounded.

D. D. D. In Hospitals; Standard Skin Cure

How many hospital patients, suffering from the frightful itch, the raw scorching pain of skin disease, have been soothed to sleep by a soothing fluid washed in by the nurse's hands? That fluid is the famous D. D. D. prescription for eczema.

THE SUPERBLY SENSITIVE NURSE of one of our prominent Catholic institutions (name of nurse and institution on application), writes regarding a patient: "The disease had eaten her eyebrows away. Her nose and lips had become disfigured. Since the use of D. D. D. her eyebrows are growing, her nose and face have assumed their natural expression."

How many eczema sufferers are paying their doctors for regular treatment and are being treated with this same soothing, healing fluid?

DR. D. D. D. RICHARDSON, Franklin

writes "D. D. D. is superior to anything I have ever found. Soft and soothing, yet a powerful agent."

To do the work, D. D. D. Prescription must be applied according to directions given in the pamphlet around every bottle. Follow these directions—and see!

And it certainly takes away the itch at once—the moment the liquid is applied. The skin is soothed—calmed—so thoroughly refreshed—delightfully cooled.

All druggists of standing have the famous specific as well as the efficient D. D. D. Skin Soap.

But we are so confident of the merits of this prescription that we will refund the purchase price of the first full-size bottle if it fails to reach your case. You alone are to judge.

THE RUSSIAN WAR PRAYER.

The words of the Russian national song, which can be paraphrased into a most suitable form to be used by any nation involved in war, is a wonderful prayer to the Almighty.

"The national songs of France and Germany make no mention of God at all, but glorify the might of man alone. That of England calls upon God, indeed, but forgets to confess the sin of man.

The following is a translation of the Russian song:

"O most merciful God, who art terrible in Thy power, who speakest in the thunder, and smitest with the lightning of Thine anger; Lord God of hosts, send us help we implore Thee in this our time of danger, from heaven Thy dwelling place, even from Thy throne on high. Suffer not Thy wrath with its terrors to overwhelm us, for we confess unto Thee that Thy holy ways have been forsaken in the earth, and Thy word despised. Vengeance is Thine alone. Let Thine omnipotent arm be stretched forth for the deliverance of Thy people. Thou who slumberest not, who watchest over all, though invisible; who judges all men, though forgotten by the children of men, save us now, we humbly beseech Thee, and grant peace in our time, O Lord!"

DANGER IN BURNING LEAVES.

The season of burning leaves and child fatalities therefrom is on us. It is as natural for a child to wish to play with fire as it is dangerous for it to do so. A season never goes by that practically every town of any size in the State is not reminded of the danger by reading of the death or serious injury from this cause. The child, adds matches that should have been placed out of its reach. The pile of leaves is the next step, then comes the fire—and often the fatal consequence. "The practice of older people burning leaves in the streets or alleys is pernicious and should be stopped. The child is quick to learn and does not realize that it may not be so careful as its elders. There is really little excuse for the practice of burning leaves. They should be gathered and placed where the wagons will take them away.

The teachers in the schools of the city could not more profitably employ five minutes than by explaining to the pupils the dangers that lurk in these street bonfires. A word now may be the means of causing some older pupil to watch the youngsters in his neighborhood. The Boy Scouts who have so often shown their civic value could not add a better maxim to their "One good deed a day" slogan than that of "Watch for the little children playing with fire."

TRIAL OF ASSASSIN.

Rome, Oct. 16.—Additional details have been received here of the arraignment at Sarajevo Tuesday of Gavrio Princip, the assassin of Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria together with Princip's wife and 21 other alleged accomplices in the crime.

Princip, in addition to having admitted that he shot the archduke and his wife, declared that far from repenting his deed he was proud of what he had done.

After the Slavs had tried by every means, legal and illegal to obtain justice and recognition of their rights, Princip said, Austria continued to trample on their nationality, language, culture, religion, and everything which the Slav nation as a whole or individuals considered most sacred, using all the weapons at its disposal.

"The moment arrived when rebellion was a duty, when the only thing possible was to protest by striking at the individual who incarnated such a despotic, retrograde, and cruel organization," Princip declared.

Princip admitted that he regretted the death of the archduke's wife. He said he alone was responsible for the assassination, and that the others accused with him were more unconscious instruments than thinking factors in the crime.

Princip insisted that he asked only the right to demonstrate his point of view in order that he might not be declared a common criminal.

The judge stopped Princip's remarks.

USE "GETS-IT," CORNS SHRIVEL, VANISH!

It's the New Way, and You'll Forget
You Ever Had Corns.

"2 drops put on in 2 seconds, corn shrivels, comes clean off!" That's the marvelous story of "GETS-IT," the new-plan corn cure. Nothing can be simpler for the cure of corns—and it never fails. That's why millions of people are using "GETS-IT" today and throwing away their tussled, plastered, sticky tape, toe-eating, make a bundle around the toe and choke it into pain by pressing either on or around the corn. There is nothing to stick to your stocking, nothing to cause inflammation or rawness, nothing to press on or around the corn. You apply it in 2 seconds. No more knives, razors, scissors or files, with their blood-poison dangers. Try "GETS-IT" for that corn, callus, wart or bunion.

"GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

A well-satisfied customer is seldom lost. He will come back to the same house of business which has given him satisfaction and service before. The next time you are in the market for roofing remember—

Certain-teed

Quality Roofing Durability
—has won its way to the front because customers who have covered one building with Certain-teed want it for other buildings.

They know by experience that Certain-teed is the highest quality roofing possible to buy and they know it is reasonable in price.

PRICE MAINTENANCE.

Its Necessity to Aid Consumer.

Many big industries engaged in national trade have often in the past done openly what the small concerns in their limited fields have done secretly—varied prices according to the degree of competition at different times and places. Their object has been to secure the highest price to be had, irrespective of whether the buyer was held up or not.

The principle of selling goods at a close margin at one place to meet or to kill competition, and charging a high price to make up for it, where little or no competition exists, is economically wrong and unfair to the buyer. Every article offered for sale should have a uniform price plainly marked upon it. Manufacturers will then have to see that the price of their goods is a reasonable one, so they will sell at the same time they will provide enough profit to pay the jobber and dealer fairly for handling the goods at a uniform price. This will inspire confidence in the consumer, because he will know the price can't be cut and must, therefore, be a reasonable one. He will buy such goods in preference to a small selling article sold at exaggerated profits.

Everybody will benefit from price maintenance in this way. It will protect the manufacturer who has built up well-known brands, also the newcomer who is seeking to do so. Distributors will be protected in handling it at a fair profit, and they will not be forced, through fear of cut-throat competition, to build up their own private brands at much expense.

When you buy Certain-teed you have our real guarantee that it will last at least five years for 1-ply, ten years for 2-ply and fifteen years for 3-ply, and this guarantee is backed by the world's largest roofing mills.

There is a dealer in your city or town who handles Certain-teed products. He will be glad to give you information and prices.

Could you do better than to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by people who have used it for years and know its value. Mrs. O. E. BOTHAS TAKES THE FIELD

Former Boer Leader Battles Dutch Commanders To Fight For Britain.

Capetown, via London Oct. 16.—As a result of Col. Maritz's rebellion in the northwest of the Cape provinces, Gen. Louis Botha, Premier of the Union of South Africa and commander of the troops of the union, is taking the field earlier than he originally intended to.

Gen. Botha is placing himself at the head of several strong Dutch commandos, organized on the old Burger line, which are affiliated with regiments trained by the union defense force.

Commandants, field cornets and burghers who served under General Botha in the South African War are rallying to his call, irrespective of their political feeling, to fight alongside the English in defense of the empire against which they were in arms 12 years ago. This fact has had a marked effect on wavering, who are now flocking to Gen. Botha's stand.

The other rebels within the union having openly declared themselves, the Government considers itself not obliged to deal gently with them out of consideration for certain Dutch people who, even though they are not strong supporters of the Government are said to have drawn the line at rebellion.

The Government also is adopting stern measures by arresting prominent men who are suspected of sowing sedition, charging them with high treason.

General Hertzog, who has been one of General Botha's most bitter opponents, has placed his service at the disposal of the Premier.

FOREST FIRE.

Connecticut Promised Rain, Which Will Put Out Flames of Great Area.

Plainfield, Conn., Oct. 16.—Forest fires with a mile frontage were creeping toward Rhode Island last night. The great blaze has been going since Sunday. Twenty thousand acres of valuable land, 100 miles of fencing, and 10,000 cords of wood have been burned.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 16.—Forest fires continue to menace property in many parts of the State. The prediction of rain was received with great joy by the fire fighters, as a rain will at once extinguish the fires and put an end to the damage going on.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 16.—Forest fires of great violence are raging in Worcester county. From Mount Wachusett, thirty-five fires can be seen. Auburn and Rutland have asked Worcester for help. At the Rutland sanitarium some of the farm buildings are threatened.

SLIDE BLOCKS PANAMA CANAL

Colon, Oct. 15.—A slide in Culabra cut of the Panama canal today piled several tons of earth into the newly completed channel.

Dredges kept in anticipation of such a contingency are now at work removing the mass.

It is believed they will clear the channel sufficiently to permit passage of vessels through within twenty four hours. There have been a number of minor slides recently but this is the first of any magnitude.

Wants $50,000 Damages

New York, Oct. 16.—Walter H. Cahill, son of John H. Cahill, general counsel for the New York Telephone Company, was sued for $50,000 damages by Miss Dorothy James, who alleges young Cahill failed to keep his promise to marry her.

RESTORES PLEASING PLUMPNESS.

Samose Sold Under Leadbeater's No Cure No Pay Plan.

There are a good many people in Alexandria who ardently wish they could shed some way of getting fat and plump. While not ill, yet they are so thin and scrawny that their friends think they cannot be well. In nine cases out of ten this condition can be readily overcome by using the combination of flesh-forming foods known as Samose. This little tablet taken three times a day, with the food does wonders in building up good health and restoring the pleasing plumpness that is so desirable.

Leadbeaters and Sons have the agency for this preparation and sell it with the promise that if it does not do all that is claimed for it in making people gain in weight and in health, the money will be refunded.

You certainly can afford to try a 50 cents box on this plan, as Samose will cost you nothing unless it give satisfaction.

MUSICAL HEADS AND FACES.

They Have a Shape All Their Own, Says a German Scientist.

That all musicians are "franks," as far as their physical appearance goes is the opinion of Dr. Paul Hohn, the German scientist. Not only this, but he finds that, regardless of their race or nationality, all persons of musical ability show a close resemblance to one another in the shape of their heads and faces. The head and countenance of the typical musician often look very much like those of the lion or the sphinx.

The peculiar shape of a musician's head is due, Dr. Hohn believes, to the gradual expansion of the sound center of his brain and the consequent change in the conformation of his skull. This is why the heads of Wagner, Beethoven, Robert Schumann, Richard Strauss and other great musicians all have an eccentric, abnormal and sometimes fantastic appearance. A musician's sound center develops abnormally because it is there that everything in his life finds its motive.

The musical head and face are of a primitive type, because musical genius is a reversion to the time when men communicated their ideas by means of more or less inarticulate sounds. But, although the musician's physical appearance is barbarous in its lack of beauty and regularity, it contains no hint of degeneracy.

The typical musical head is characterized by the horizontal breadth of the forehead, the broad nose and chin and the wide, extremely mobile mouth. The brow often overhangs greatly, as was so notably the case with Beethoven. The eyes are lustrous, but bear a separated, dreamy expression. The hands are broad and strong.

"Musicians," says Dr. Hohn, "are absolute slaves to their sense of sound, and it is this that not only affects their physical appearance, but makes them mentally so nervous and excitable. The main feature of the musical intellect is that mental excitement seeks a different outlet from that in the case of ordinary men."—New York American.

MARK TWAIN AS A LINGUIST.

His Grim Vow After He Firmly Decided to Learn French.

When Mark Twain was a young reporter, working on the San Francisco Call, he made up his mind to learn the French language. He did not want to go to the expense of a teacher, and so he bought a grammar and conversation book and set to work. Before breakfast he porled over the lessons; late in the evening he was at it again, and every available moment of the day he employed with equal assiduity.

He soon began to look about for opportunities to make use of his new accomplishment. Accordingly he began to eat at a French restaurant once a week. One day as he and his roommate were coming out of the restaurant they found on the sidewalk just outside the door a Frenchman. He was asking first one passerby and then another the way to a certain street, but no one understood him. That was Mark's chance. The Frenchman looked at him with wistful eyes and began to talk. Mark listened attentively. Three or four times the stranger was compelled to repeat his question, then Mark seemed to catch his drift. But he had scarcely spoken half a dozen words in reply, when the Frenchman fell to the sidewalk in a dead faint.

The true cause of the stranger's fainting may never be known. Very likely he was fainted, and perhaps he had been put out of this very restaurant because of his sordid appearance. But, whatever the cause, the joke was on Mark for once. Mark's roommate was careful enough of his friendship not to tell the incident at the office of the Morning Call, but he teased the rising humorist a good deal about it. When the fun had lasted long enough Mark set his jaw, and with unlimited determination written on his features announced: "I'll learn French if it kills every Frenchman in the country."—Youth's Companion.

Why a Lake Is Like a Person. A lake resembles a living being in many ways. It has a pulse. Its surface rises and falls rhythmically. It has a circulation. Its water not only ebbs and flows, but there are undercurrents by which the life giving oxygen is carried to organisms which dwell in its depths. It does muscular work. The shores are eroded, and warves are moved by the ice pressure. It digests food, and some lakes, and to say, sometimes have indigestion. And so we might continue the comparison and tell of its smiles and frowns and the music of its waves upon the shore.—Atlantic Monthly.

Blended. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, the creator of Sherlock Holmes, once said that he wrote his first book at the age of six. It appears to have been a story of adventure of the most exciting kind. "There was a man in it and a tiger," Sir Arthur said. "I forget which of the two was the hero of the story, but it didn't matter which because about the time the tiger met the man they became blended into one!"
